

Peter Crow, PhD CMIInstD

Dr Peter Crow is an independent board director, advisor and educator with deep expertise in corporate governance, strategy, and the craft of board work, and an extensive track record helping boards realise organisational potential. His sector knowledge extends across agribusiness, technology and innovation, professional services, local government, manufacturing, distribution, and healthcare and beyond. A dynamic and outcomes-oriented thinker, Peter's insightful contributions have proved invaluable to the fortunes of a wide range of enterprises, across five continents.

Representative contributions (see petercrow.com for more information):

- Directorships of private, high-growth, family-owned and social enterprises
- Trusted advisor to chairmen, boards, regulators, and governments
- Development of the Strategic Governance Framework, for effective board practice
- Corporate purpose, stakeholder engagement and strategy formulation engagements
- Board and governance effectiveness assessments
- Post-graduate courses and tailored director education programmes
- Authorship of numerous peer-reviewed papers and published articles
- Keynote speaker and panellist at conferences and seminars

Peter has a doctorate in corporate governance and strategy (a pioneering study explaining how boards influence firm performance), and a first in technology and management. He is a chartered member of the Institute of Directors, and a member of several international institutions including the Global Peter Drucker Society, the European Institute for Advanced Studies in Management, and the International Corporate Governance Network.

Outside professional and research work, he maintains a keen interest in classic cars and road cycling. Peter lives in Pyes Pa, New Zealand, but works globally.